

Rutland Historical Society Quarterly

Vol. I, No. 3

Rutland Railroad

This quarterly, published in 1971, discusses a sketch of the Rutland Railroad found by Mrs. James Wood in her attic. The sketch is a landscape of a church tower and other unnamed buildings from the Rutland and the Burlington Railroad Station House located in Rutland. Mrs. Wood handed over the sketch, which helped restore a sense of hope in aid of the Newsletter to live on. The quarterly also contains photograms of the Rutland Railroad Yard and other ephemera.
